MOTORIST BLAMELESS

But Driver of Motorcycle Held Responsible for Collision.

A motorcycle and an automobile figured in a slight accident on Main street Sunday afternoon when the driver of the former endeavored to turn around. The automobile, which is owned by Mr. O'Brien of South Coventry, was going up Main street at a slow rate of speed. The driver of the motorcycle, who was on the right side of the road, turned directly in front of the automobile, which was about to pass him, and consequently the two came together. Mr. O'Brien brought his car to a stop before much damage was done. The latter reported the matter to the police who allowed him to proceed on his way. Later the owner of the motorcycle came to the police headquarters to complain but upon being questioned he stated that he did not give any signal before he made the turn. Witnesses of the affair stated that the driver of the automobile was in no way to blame, as he was driving his car slowly at the time and he was given no signal by the other man.

The Cummings-Guilfoile-Duffy combination of democratic spellbinders that made a coast line trip from the Thames to the Pawcatuck rivers, Saturday, made a stop in Stonington borough late in the afternoon. They stopped directly under the Hughes and Fairbanks banner near the post office, and then there expounded democratic doctrine, as they saw it, and frequently pointed upward in decision at the banner that bore the portraits of the next president and vice president of the United States. Mr. Cummings spoke on the national issues, Mr. Guilfoile on state issues and Mr. Duffy devoted his time in explaining just why he dropped from a republican to a progressive and then made another flop to the democracy. It was a very interesting thing to explain. Fully one hundred persons listened attentively to what the political visitors had to say and extended them the usual courtesies that the borough extends to all visitors, at all times, political or otherwise.

Breakwater Spray. Senator Benjamin Hewitt is out with the statement that the town of Stonington will go republican by at least four hundred majority. That will be going some when it is claimed that the normal majority of the town is not over two hundred.

Torrington—Town Clerk William A. Gleason is using a Bible in administering the oath to those who are being made voters at this year's sessions of the board of registration. This is a departure from the custom that had been in vogue in the past, but it is recognized as a more solemn way of having those made electors appreciate the responsibilities that attach to the duties of the voter.
